THE PROBLEM

Explosion of microplastics entering the environment and ultimately impacting our food supply and health.

Excessive carbon footprint from plastic, bioplastic, and paper straw production is accelerating climate change.

Plastic and many bioplastic straws (if not properly composted) will not fully break down in the environment.

OUR SOLUTION

Our line of Earth straws are the only non-manufactured, 100% biodegradable, and 100% bio-based straws on the market today. Mother Earth is our machine.

Our straws require minimal carbon usage during the beginning and end-of-life cycle. This eliminates both upstream pollution and downstream waste disposal.
